

A flamboyant floral show throughout the year...

from the top end of Australia to the sunny south...

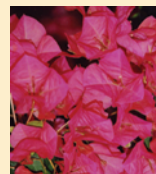

Beesnees

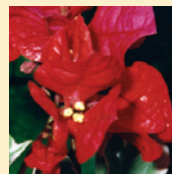

Bilas*

Bluey

Jazzi

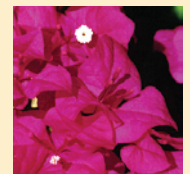

Jellibene*

Jezebel*

Majik

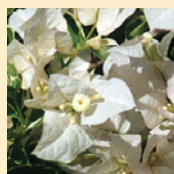

Maudi

Miski*

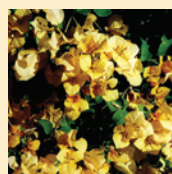

Nonya

Panda*

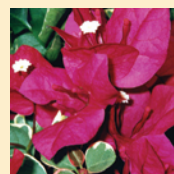

Pedro

Siggi

Zeffa

Zuki*

Zulu

 These have beautiful variegated leaves*

there's a Bambino Boug For every garden.

Easy Care

- Before planting work the soil up by first incorporating compost.
- After planting, water in well, mulch to 5cm with mulching material being careful to keep away from the base of the plant.
- Potting - use quality potting media and never allow to dry out.
- Pruning - prune to your desired size once or twice a year.
- If a long water shoot appears remove it to the base.
- Bambinos will withstand several degrees of frost once established.
- Flowering is often better in hot dry times.
- Fertilizers - Bambinos require moderate levels of food, especially when grown in containers. Fertilizers high in potash are best to encourage heavier flowering. For ground plants, the same fertilizer is suitable or supplement your usual fertilizer with sulphate of potash at label recommended rates. Liquid fertilizer should contain at least as much potash (K) as nitrogen (N).

Features

- Flowering in a multitude of colours, Bambinos bring your garden to life.
- With little attention, your Bambinos will give a flamboyant floral show several times a year.
- Bambinos grow well in gardens, pots, planter boxes and courtyard containers.
- Bambinos are water savers and low maintenance once established.
- Evergreen in most districts.
- In gardens Bambinos can be planted into most soil types as long as there is good drainage.
- Plant against walls to deter vandals.

Commercial landscapes and home gardens are just the right setting for Bambinos so make your choice by visiting our website at: www.bambinobougs.com.au

For more information Email info@aussiewinners.com.au or Phone 07 3206 7676

Ipswich Queensland

Why Bambinos

Bambinos are a new series of Bougainvillea, compact and smaller growing in habit when compared to the well known Bougainvilleas of yesteryear.